

MAY PAY FINES FOR MILITANTS

Friends Will Obtain "Suff" Pickets' Release, According to Report.

Miss Lucy Burns, of Cameron House, declared last night after a visit to the Ocoquan workhouse that the six militant suffragists are in a state of semi-starvation and that she will protest to the District Commissioners against the quality of the food served to the prisoners.

The pickets, she declares, are unable to eat the food that is served to them. She made complaints against "tainted beef, sour hominy and skim milk." None of the prisoners complains over not being given enough food, but objection is made to quality.

Unofficially, it was learned at Ocoquan that none of the prisoners has entered a complaint to Supt. Whitaker. On the contrary, it was pointed out at the workhouse that the letters sent out by the prisoners have commented particularly upon the fact that the matrons have been most considerate and that the general treatment is satisfactory.

May Pay Pickets' Fines.

Miss Burns, who was permitted to see the women in the capacity of counsel, declared they are thin and pale and that Miss Lavinia Dock had stated they were only able to eat enough food to keep body and soul together.

gether. None of them is ready to pay her fine and obtain a release.

Payment of the fines for some of the women will occasion no great surprise, if made within the next few days. The prisoners are all gentlewomen and the confinement of the workhouse, although softened by some concessions, such as bathing three times a week, has undermined their health and it is believed that their relatives will pay their fines and force them to leave Ocoquan.

Matthew E. O'Brien, counsel for the six pickets arrested Friday, was on his way to Falmouth last night. Some word is expected from the Massachusetts seaport town tomorrow as to what disposition Judge Robb, of the Court of Appeals, has made upon the motion for a new trial.

In the meantime, the pickets are preparing for another demonstration before the White House that will combine new banners and new features. Women volunteers who are new to the sentinel work are expected to display the banners.

Senator J. Hamilton Lewis will visit the six suffragists today at Ocoquan, having been appealed to in behalf of Mrs. William Upton Watson and Miss Lucy Ewing, both Chicago women.

LOCAL SANTA CLAUS WILL TREAT SOLDIERS

Red Cross to Send 15,000 Packages to France.

The Red Cross Christmas ship will carry from the District of Columbia 15,000 Christmas packages for our soldiers and marines at the front in France. This is the quantity, it was announced yesterday, which Washington has been asked by national headquarters to furnish. Instead of filling socks, as was done last year, the gifts will be packed in a khaki-colored handkerchief—to make the package more compact—the contents of which will be as follows:

Writing paper, envelopes, pencil, checkers, dominoes or playing cards (one game), pipe, tobacco, cigarettes, package of candy. The total cost of each package will be about 50 cents.

In addition to the individual packages a number of large boxes of athletic goods, and also boxes of books will be sent by the District of Columbia Chapter.

These Christmas gifts are to be ready for shipment by the middle of November. Each of the sixty-two auxiliaries in Washington will devote part of their time from now on to the work of making the khaki handkerchiefs, and filling and preparing them for shipment.

It is suggested by the finance committee that contributions for this special purpose should be designated "For Christmas Packages."

The following requests were acknowledged yesterday:

Eugene Van Rensselaer (dividend), $45; employees of Brewford, $22.75; Lucia Dager Masson (dividend), $19; James A. Wilner, $4; "J. A." (dividend), $11.

Proceeds of entertainment given by Katherine Cissel, tableaux, vocal solos, recitations, $28.70; John A. Markle, $15; Jean Allan, $11; "R. C. B.", $2; J. Edward Bates (dividend), $7; G. D. Ellis, $2; Detroit Heating Company, $2; E. C. Dallas, $1.

MEATLESS DINNER NO HARDSHIP TO MARINES

Banqueted Soldiers Pounce on Hoover Menu with Avidity.

Uncle Sam's boys had their first taste of a real meatless and chickenless dinner served "a la Hoover" last night, when sixty-five "rookie" officers from the Marine Corps Reserve camp, at Quantico, Va., were feasted at the Hotel Burlington.

When the subject of a banquet for the fighters was first broached, says J. H. Southworth, who planned the menu, it was then and there decided to have a dinner which should be palatable and "filling" and at the same time carry out the latest suggestions of the Food Administration. That the results justified the experiment was the unanimous opinion of those who attended the banquet.

As one husky young lieutenant expressed, "I don't mind a meatless meal at least not after I have finishing eating."

The "food conservation" bill of fare, as arranged by Mr. Southworth, is as follows:

Tomato Soup
Fish
String Beans Irish Potatoes
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Strawberry Ice Cream
Demi Tasse

At a reception following the banquet, held in the Church of the Evangelist, Eighteenth and North-west, Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of Secretary of War, sang several selections.

Mad. Gen. Barnett, commanding officer of the U. S. Marine Corps, introduced the speaker of the evening, Wesley Frost, until lately American Consul at Queenstown, Ireland, who for the first time publicly gave his personal views on ruthless U-boat warfare. His account of the aftermath of the Lusitania tragedy was graphic.

NEW TREASURY LOAN IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

Offering of $250,000,000 Brings 120 Per Cent Response.

The offering of $250,000,000 in Treasury certificates of indebtedness was oversubscribed approximately 20 per cent when the subscriptions closed at noon yesterday.

When Secretary McAdoo issued his statement, only partial reports had been received on the subscriptions. Full reports may show even a greater oversubscription. The subscription was handled through Federal reserve banks.

The weekly bank statement of the Federal Reserve Board shows relatively small variations in total resources and liabilities, with considerable shifting of funds, offset in part by compensating movements of other accounts.

During the week aggregate withdrawals by the New York bank from Treasury loan depositories amounted to $10,000,000.

During this time there were paid out to foreign governments and deposited in national banks $40,000,000 for France, $50,000,000 for Great Britain, and $2,500,000 for Russia. The sum of $7,500,000 was paid to representatives of Belgium.

The total borrowing of allied nations was $100,000,000. Large offsetting gains were made through an increase in nonmember banks clearing accounts.

PRAISE U. S. MIDDIES

"Admiral Bunk," "Snipe," "Blue-eye Bill," and others attracted and amused the Japanese commissioners.

The drill hall, with its remarkable imitation of turrets and bridge, and scenery for sea gun practice, surprised the Japanese admirals. The electrical range showed where the shot landed on the scenery, and whenever there was a miss, a splash of water shot into the air, as on a stage setting.

To Visit Mr. Vernon.

The commission returned here late in the afternoon and a setting down for its real business next week. Viscount Ishii has accepted an invitation of the Senate to address that body on Thursday next. It is considered very likely that he will make this the occasion of a detailed statement of the manner in which Japan is ready to co-operate with the United States and the other allies during the war.

Viscount Ishii and his commissioners will visit the tomb of George Washington today.

Next week they will have conferences with the State, War, Navy and Treasury departments. Unlike other treasurers the Japanese will talk about giving money to this country instead of taking money away from it. But it is doubtful if Japan will be allowed to participate in the liberty loan. The obligations of the United States have not been placed with foreign countries since Revolutionary times.

All Capital Organizations Are Urged to Join in Big Liberty Army Parade

Every organization in the District of Columbia, of whatever kind, is urged to participate in the Liberty Army Parade to the First Washington Contingent of the Liberty Army, which will take place Tuesday, September 4.

Organize your forces at once for this parade, and advise the Citizens' Committee at its headquarters, Board of Trade Star Building, of the number that will be in line and the character of the organization, and whether your unit will have a band.

Get busy at once. There is nothing more responsible for a real American. Advertising of every character is barred from the parade.

Tenants and property owners along Pennsylvania avenue are especially urged to carry out imposing patriotic displays on their building fronts.

President Wilson is asked to grant a half day holiday to permit the Nation's Capital to do itself proud on this momentous occasion.

Every patriotic Washingtonian wants to do a big thing in the big way for the men who are going to the front for liberty. So ACT, Mr. Mrs. or Miss Organization Leader, right away!

Service is the test of leadership. Prompt response to the Citizens' Committee and actual delivery will be the test.

The parade takes place Tuesday, September 4, and the committee must hear from you by next Wednesday, August 29.

Action Now—TODAY—is essential.

Yours very truly,
WM. F. GUDE, Chairman.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE FOR HONOR PARADE FOR FIRST WASHINGTON CONTINGENT OF THE LIBERTY ARMY.
CHAS. J. COLUMBUS, Secretary.

POLICE GUARD DIVE

The Washington Herald that he has already called moral conditions existing in South Washington directly to the attention of the War Department, with the opinion that unless they are immediately remedied, serious results will follow.

Bertha B. Byrne, city missionary for the mission, who is the following account of the vice agents of that church have seen in the establishment complained about in the Herald:

On Four-and-a-half street many places of amusement and refreshment were open—where noticed one especially—where "near beer" was sold. The room had a regulation bar of good length and lined up before it was a motley crowd. White soldiers, colored women and colored men—drinking and smoking; on the other side of the room sat colored women, some playing cards, some resting, while beside them stood or sat many white soldiers. There were in the room at one time perhaps 100 persons. The air was thick with tobacco smoke, and filled with a melody of noise.

It brought back to me the Texas border as I remember them in the "legendary" 80's when soldiers and Mexican women congregated in beer halls, but I have never seen it since, even in the Philippines and this is Washington.

A few nights later we went back to Four-and-a-half street. Mrs. Monroe stepped up to this house, and standing outside, looking in, her presence instantly had a quieting effect as would the muzzle of a gun.

After a short silence a sergeant of marines stepped up to her, where he got his license, and he said, "You are in uniform—but he was as drunk as a lord and not from near beer, either." "Say," he remarked, "I have an uneasy hand on her neck. I don't know who you are—but any one—or any society that tries to deprive a man of his drink has no right to exist." As he went down the street we heard him continuing his unsteady speech.

Going farther we again watched the colored prostitutes—saw them approach soldiers—men, boys—some of them—saw the boys hesitate, waver—and yield.

Some of these boys were meeting for the first time city temptations. Father and mothers back home had given them up for their country—but not for this. Heart sick we turned away. There is but one cure for sin. That cure we do know—Mr. Kline went to the superintendent of police and got a permit to hold gospel services on the corner of G and Four-and-a-half streets southwest. And there three evenings of each week we have sung the old hymns—and told the story. The old, old story of the cross.

The police take refuge in the statement that the saloon in question is permitted to sell "near beer" as far as the official status of the establishment is concerned, the statement is correct. Nevertheless, it has been a common complaint of men and women come reeling from its open doors, that evidence that they have consumed what is not nonintoxicating.

GERMAN HELD NOT HENKEL

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 25.—The prison authorities at Fort Oglethorpe, this afternoon, denied that the German civilian arrested at Birmingham this morning was Lieut. Arnold Henkel, who recently escaped from the post. They state that Henkel is in solitary confinement at Fort Oglethorpe, having been arrested at Cedar Grove, Ga., Friday night.

Asks $25,000 for Broken Leg.

Louis De Zychinski through his father, filed suit yesterday in the District Supreme Court to recover $25,000 damages against Peter M. Louis and Conrad M. Dorosh. The plaintiff alleges that while on the south end of the Highway Bridge on the night of June 1 last he was run over by a truck owned by the defendants and his leg broken.

Nine-tenths of Russia's gold mining is done on lands owned or formerly owned by the Czar.

DEBELIEVE SPY RIFLED OFFICE

Room of Senator Simmons Twice Ransacked at Capitol.

Department of Justice agents are working to find out who rifled the office of Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate Committee of Finance and state valuable statistics regarding the $5,000,000 additional revenue bill.

"So far as I have been able to determine," Senator Simmons said last night, "whoever entered the office was eager to secure testimony from army officers and government officials, regarding how the government proposed to spend the additional $5,000,000, sought by the Secretary of the Treasury."

"We had a number of War Department officials and men high in authority before us and they gave testimony as to how this money was to be spent. Only a few copies of this testimony were made and they are all missing. Some statistics and figures are missing but nothing of material consequence."

Two attempts were made to secure the papers. On last Tuesday night the office door was jammed and on Thursday night, the thieves entered by means of skeleton keys.

Senator Simmons immediately reported the matter to the Capitol police and the guard around his offices has been doubled.

The news of the entry into the office created considerable consternation about the Capitol and the police officers, surrounding the building, have been notified to be particularly vigilant for suspects.

The work is generally considered to be that of a German spy, anxious to learn the government's war plans as disclosed by the testimony of the army and navy officers. So far as is known, the attempt was unsuccessful since none of the testimony was secured. There was plenty of evidence, however, that the papers in the Senator's office had been carefully scanned.
